

Partial poll automation okayed

By Lawrence B. de Vito

THE COMMISSION ON ELECTRONIC VOTING (CEV) has agreed with the Department of Justice (DOJ) to implement a partial automation system for the 2010 national elections.

CEV Chairman Antonio Reyes Jr. disclosed the agreement following a meeting with Justice Secretary Alberto Fernandez, Jr. and other government officials.

Reyes said the CEV will implement a partial automation system for the 2010 national elections. The system will allow voters to cast their ballots electronically using a ballot box and a ballot paper.

The system will be implemented in a pilot project in the National Capital Region (NCR) and the Ilocos Region. The pilot project will be implemented in the 2010 national elections.

Abstract—The purpose of this study was to determine the effect of a 12-week training program on the physical fitness and health-related quality of life of sedentary, middle-aged women. The study was a randomized controlled trial. The intervention group (n = 20) participated in a 12-week training program consisting of three sessions per week. The control group (n = 20) remained sedentary. The primary outcome was the change in the 6-minute walk test (6MWT) distance. Secondary outcomes included changes in the 10-meter walk test (10MWT) time, heart rate (HR), blood pressure (BP), body mass index (BMI), and health-related quality of life (HRQL). The 6MWT distance increased significantly in the intervention group compared with the control group (p < 0.05). The 10MWT time decreased significantly in the intervention group compared with the control group (p < 0.05). The HR, BP, BMI, and HRQL also improved significantly in the intervention group compared with the control group (p < 0.05). The results of this study suggest that a 12-week training program can improve the physical fitness and HRQL of sedentary, middle-aged women.

The above study, however, demonstrates that the observed relationship between the use of the Internet and the use of the telephone is not necessarily causal. It is possible that the use of the Internet is a result of the use of the telephone, rather than the other way around. # With Binay back as mayor, Makati is back to normal

By Rene T. Quinsion

MAKATI CITY, Oct. 20 (AP) — The city of Makati, Philippines, returned to normal Tuesday after a 60-day curfew imposed by the military government to quell a rebellion led by Mayor Alfredo Binay.

The city's streets were filled with people and cars, a stark contrast to the quiet and fear that had gripped the city during the curfew. Binay, who had been ousted from office by the military, was seen walking through the city, surrounded by a crowd of supporters.

The curfew, which was imposed by the military government, had lasted for 60 days, from September 19 to October 19. During this time, the city was under a strict curfew, with only a few exceptions for essential services. The military government had also imposed a state of emergency in the city, and had sent troops to maintain order.

Binay's return to office as mayor was a significant event for the city. He had been a controversial figure, and his return was seen as a sign of the city's return to normalcy. The military government had been in power since the ouster of President Fidel Ramos, and its policies had been widely criticized.

The city's return to normal was a relief for many residents, who had suffered from the curfew and the military government's policies. The streets were once again filled with people and cars, and the city's economy was beginning to recover.

Where's Binay now?

The former mayor of Makati City, Alfredo Binay, was seen walking through the city, surrounded by a crowd of supporters. He was wearing a white shirt and dark pants, and was smiling at the camera. The crowd was cheering and waving, and Binay was waving back. He was walking down a street that was lined with buildings and trees. The street was filled with people, and the atmosphere was festive.

ABS-CBN insists DOJ ruling on 'Wowowee' case has no basis

By Rappler.com Staff

MANILA, Philippines — The Philippine Department of Justice (DOJ) has ruled that the ABS-CBN network's "Wowowee" show is in violation of the 1988 Entertainment and Publicity Code. The ruling, which came after a long legal battle, states that the show's format, which involves a host and a panel of judges, is a violation of the code's provisions on the content and format of entertainment programs. ABS-CBN has insisted that the ruling is without basis, claiming that the show is a legitimate entertainment program and that the ruling is an overreach of the DOJ's authority.

The DOJ's ruling is based on the fact that the show's format is a violation of the code's provisions on the content and format of entertainment programs. The code states that entertainment programs must be of a high quality and must not be in violation of the public interest. The DOJ argues that the show's format, which involves a host and a panel of judges, is a violation of these provisions. ABS-CBN has insisted that the ruling is without basis, claiming that the show is a legitimate entertainment program and that the ruling is an overreach of the DOJ's authority.

Make-or-break decision for the Filipino nation

1 Our country is at a crossroads

After decades of false starts, wrong turns, and tragic failures, Filipinos have come to a historic crossroads. Pinned to amend the 1987 Charter, the nation turns its eyes to the Supreme Court for a decision fraught with historical consequences—and the tug-of-war between the forces of political reform and the defenders of the status quo.

2 An amendment, not a revision

Is the change in the political system being proposed an amendment or a revision? In the framework of the country's first constitution, any change in any provision of the Charter is an amendment. And this is how candidly Filipinos understood the word to mean when they voted to ratify each of our country's four Constitutions.

3 A clear and definitive agenda for change

In turn, the People's Initiative—is spearheaded by Senate Majority Leader and the Union of Local Authorities of the Philippines (ULAP)—has a definitive and limited agenda for change. And what is paramount is that the will of the sovereign people must be allowed to prevail.

To the 60 million Filipino voters who endorsed the People's Initiative, the issue before the Supreme Court is change—a new beginning for the nation.

4 Presidential democracy has failed our country

Over these last 70 years, we have tried to make presidential government work. The American Founding Fathers—trying to establish democratic government in their vast and diverse society—deliberately designed their Constitution to prevent strong central government.

Transplanted bodily to our factionalized political system, the divided government produced by this elaborate system of checks and balances has all too often produced administrative gridlock.

Twice in the last 20 years, citizens have had to intervene forcibly in the political process to replace oppressive and corrupt Presidents—resolving constitutional crises and even civil conflicts.

And, as we saw in 2000-2001, a ruling President can even defy diffuse public opinion with impunity—because the fixed presidential term also makes his impeachment tremendously difficult—short of a political revolution.

5 Parliamentary governments bring prosperity

We cannot argue against the success of parliamentary systems in the overwhelming majority of European and Asian states.

In our own Southeast Asia, the most prosperous countries have got to where they are under parliamentary governments. We can not dispute the record of the past 20 years, when the Philippines stagnated under its presidential politics. Singapore, Malaysia and Thailand all flourished under parliamentary governments.

6 Now is the time to turn our country around

Our nation needs to turn a fresh page in its politics. The crucial issue is how to put the national interest above all else. That interest is to unify the nation, reform its politics, and the re-charting the path to sustained growth and reach the status of a Second-World country in 10 years.

Now is the propitious time to turn our country around, and Charter reform is our last hope of getting this done.

7 Let's send a message of hope to our people

We must assure the least among our people that politics can begin to work—not just for politicians—and not just for the rich—but for every citizen.

And we must reawaken the sense of pride in our country—and the civic responsibility—that lies in every Filipino's breast.

For there is nothing that we as a people can not do together—for as long as we have the faith, the will, and the heart.

China, United States urge N. Korea to return to talks

China and the United States urged North Korea to return to the six-party talks on Tuesday, saying the country's recent nuclear tests were a setback for regional stability.

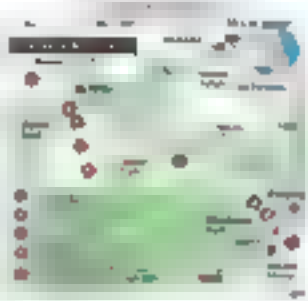

The two nations said the tests were a violation of the 1994 Agreed Framework, which called for North Korea to abandon its nuclear weapons program in exchange for economic aid and energy assistance.

China's Foreign Ministry spokesman said the country was "deeply concerned" about the tests and hoped North Korea would "return to the negotiating table." The United States also expressed its disappointment and called for a resumption of dialogue.

Palau to vote on major overhaul of canal

Palau is set to vote on a major overhaul of the 1914-built Babeldaob Canal, which is the main waterway for the island nation. The project, known as the Babeldaob Canal Improvement Project, is a $100-million venture aimed at modernizing the canal's infrastructure and improving its capacity to handle larger vessels.

The project includes widening the canal, deepening the draft, and upgrading the locks. It also involves the construction of new bridges and the replacement of old infrastructure. The project is expected to be completed by 2010.

St. Louis to World Series

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — The St. Louis Cardinals won the National League Championship Series 4-1 over the Houston Astros on Wednesday night, advancing to the World Series for the first time since 1957.

The Cardinals' victory was capped by a ninth-inning home run by Matt Lincecum, who had been hitting poorly in the series. Lincecum's homer gave the Cardinals a 4-1 lead, which they held through the bottom of the ninth.

The Cardinals' pitching was also excellent, with Tim Lincecum earning the win. The Astros' offense was stifled, with only one run scoring in the game.

RP to host Asia-Pacific real estate summit

By Christine E. Salinas

Illegitimate real estate transactions are a major problem in the Philippines, according to a report by the Asian Real Estate Association (AREAS) and the Philippine Real Estate Association (PREA). The report, titled "The State of the Real Estate Market in the Philippines," was released last week. It found that the real estate market in the Philippines is still in a state of flux, with many transactions being illegal or fraudulent. The report also noted that the real estate market in the Philippines is still in a state of flux, with many transactions being illegal or fraudulent.

THE 10 BEST NEW MUSIC THAT YOU SHOULD HAVE HEARD BY NOW

The authors of the study, who were funded by the National Institutes of Health, found that the study participants who had the highest levels of physical activity had the lowest risk of developing type 2 diabetes. The researchers also found that the risk of developing type 2 diabetes was significantly higher in people who had a family history of the disease, even if they were physically active.

by the same process as before. All that is to be done is to change the value of the constant  $c$  in the formula for  $\bar{y}$  to  $c + \frac{1}{2}$ . The same holds true for the other two cases.

Key message
The assessment of the health and safety of the chemical 'formulation' of a pesticide is the responsibility of the manufacturer. The assessment of the health and safety of the 'use' of a pesticide is the responsibility of the user. The assessment of the health and safety of the 'storage' of a pesticide is the responsibility of the user.

DRUG SALES THROTTLED
New data confirms the fact that the cap on drug manufacturing has been met. Looking at trends in
Mfr. shipments, Bureau indicates likely curbing growth, despite the fact that it's mandated the restriction.

Market test
I supported 1400 people to see before going to cinema. Most of them I got feedback on whether or not to go.
